Estate Homes Optimize the Topography, Creating Up- or Downslope Layouts to Take in Views

Photography by John Bare

- Homes features a charming alpine or lodge look both inside and out, which works well given the hilltop location of the community.

- Two collections take advantage of the site topography provided the opportunity for daylight basements for some of the homes.
- These spacious homes include generously sized family rooms and formal dining rooms, as well as separate areas to gather like media or bonus rooms.
- Plentiful windows as well as skylights help bring in lots of light.
